Introduction

This handbook is meant to provide a guidance and information to the public regarding SIKAP .

It is intended to provide better understanding about the system.

This handbook is important as reference for probationary , qualified and foreign drivers driving in Brunei Darussalam.

What Is SİKAP?

SİKAP is an acronym for Sistem Keselamatan Amalan Pemandu (Driver Safety Practice System). It is a system where a driver will be awarded with a demerit point if he/she commits a traffic offence which can lead to either suspension or revocation of his/her driving license depending on the severity of offence committed.

The system is meant to be more of a corrective measure rather than penalising drivers.

Why SİKAP is introduced?

The system is designed to ensure drivers in Brunei Darussalam to be more disciplined, careful and complying with existing regulations. Through this system, enforcement agencies will be able to identify high risk drivers who may cause danger and road accidents.

This system is hoped to create a safer driving environment for all road users.

How SUKAP is implemented?

There are nine (9) categories of offences that carry demerit points starting with 3, 4, 6, 8, 9, 12, 18, 21 and 24 demerit points depending on the severity of the offences. Each categories consist of offences mainly related to drivers attitude.

How the system works?

For a probationary driver, his/her driving license will be revoked for a period of one year if he/she accumulates 13 or more demerit points within a period of 12 months from the date of his/her license issued.

During the revocation period, he/she will not be allowed to book or undergo a driving test. He/She will have to re-sit both theory and practical driving test if he/she wishes to obtain a new driving license after serving the revocation period.

If a qualified driver accumulates 24 or more demerit points within a period of 24 months, his/her driving license will be suspended.

Within the following 12 months after serving suspension periods, the driver's driving license will again be suspended if he/she accumulates 12 or more demerit points.

During the suspension period, the driver has to surrender his/her driving license to the Land Transport Department.

First and second suspensions will last for three (3) months and six (6) months respectively. The third suspension will lead to the revocation of the driver's driving license for a year.

To whom SUKAP is targeted?

No drivers will be exempted from the system. It generally applies to all including foreign drivers.

Incentives under SUKAP?

If a driver has a clean driving record for 12 months from the last date of receiving demerit points, his accumulated demerit points will be erased from the system.

Drivers who have been suspended and have clean driving records for 24 months after the last date of suspension, his suspension record will be erased from the system.

In addition, if the same driver attends a one day short course at the Land Transport Department, his suspension period will be reduced as follow :

- i. 3 months to 1 month; and
- ii. 6 months to 3 months.

Vehicle owners who have not committed any offence and have clean record for three continuous years, he will receive a 5% insurance premium discount on top of his "Non-Claim Bonus" (NCB) from the participating insurance agencies provided that he has not made any claim on his NCB during those periods.

"ROAD SAFETY IS THE RESPONSIBILITY OF ROAD USERS"

Drivers who are liable for the "first suspension" may serve their suspension period at a later date provided that :

- i. Offences committed are not related to road traffic accidents; and
- ii. Pass the one day short course at the Land Transport Department.
